how it works...

1. Contact me to discuss the best package for you (what size you want your painting, what moment you want to capture, or if you might like to include a paint and sip for your bridal shower!)
2. I will draft a contract outlining all the specifications of your package and commissioned artwork
3. Once both parties are happy with the contract, I'll send you an invoice for the initial deposit (for confirmation of booking) and final payment (due one month before the your big day)

FOR LIVE WEDDING PAINTINGS

I will arrive early in the morning to set up and begin painting – I will continue painting in the background through the ceremony and reception. I will complete the bulk of the painting on the day, but will need up to 2 weeks after the wedding to complete the finer details and varnish your piece.

I will need your photographers contact details, as I will collaborate with them to pick a photo to continue working on these details in the following weeks.

FOR WEDDING BOUQUET ARTWORKS

Once the contract is written, I will get your photographer's details and organise for them to send me a photo of your bouquet. I will then work from the photo to create your masterpiece! Allow at least one month from receiving the artwork to completion. Alternatively, you can also choose a photo to send me after the event to work from.
